Waterloo Wellington CCAC Selects New Chief Executive Officer

The Waterloo Wellington CCAC Board of Directors is pleased to announce that effective May 28th, our new Chief Executive Officer is Kevin Mercer. Kelly Smith will continue in her role as Interim Chief Executive Officer until May 28.

"I am very appreciative of the work done by Marshall Draper, Vice Chair of the Waterloo Wellington CCAC Board of Directors and the Hiring Committee members," states John Enns, Chair of the Waterloo Wellington CCAC Board of Directors. "It was not an easy process as there were many well-qualified candidates to consider. I am pleased that they kept the leadership qualities we wanted at the forefront, and, through their unanimous decision, chose the candidate with the leadership and partnership skills to lead our organization into the future."

Kevin was selected because of his broad experiences in health care including, primary care, community service provider agency and CCAC, as well as his own skills, qualifications and vision – all of which are in line with our direction and with the desired leadership qualities expressed by staff, management and board members.

"My strengths and passion have always been in the community-based health sector," states Kevin. "I am honoured to be the successful candidate to lead the Waterloo Wellington CCAC. I believe strongly in the expanded mandate of CCACs as system navigator and I am excited to continue this direction."
