Re: Resignation of Toronto Central LHIN CEO

With regret, we announce that the Board of Directors has accepted the resignation of Barry Monaghan as Chief Executive Officer.

Barry has indicated that he is leaving to pursue other opportunities. He has provided valued leadership to the Toronto Central LHIN since its inception. The Board of Directors would like to thank him for his many contributions to the LHIN and his dedication to the health system transformation agenda. We wish him well in his future endeavours.

Barry's his last day in the office will be Friday, November 9, after which he will take several weeks of vacation.

The board will immediately initiate a search for a new CEO.

During the interim period, LHIN operations will continue under the leadership of Senior Directors Bill Manson and Laura Pisko- Bezruchko. As of November 12, Mohamed Dhanani, with the support and guidance of board members Bonnie Ewart and Harley Nott, will assume the signing and decision-making responsibilities of CEO. During this period, Dennis Magill assume the governance responsibilities of Mohamed Dhanani.

The board wishes to ensure that the health system transformation momentum generated within and across the LHIN to date is maintained and grows. Your continued support through this transition will be key to success.

We will keep you informed of our progress.
